About Us

Cantina Produttori di Valdobbiadene represents the history of a collective enterprise founded in 1952 on the intuition of 129 Founding Members, whose courageous efforts laid the foundations for what is now one of the best-known cooperatives in the Italian viticultural sector. Since 2019, the company has pursued an important approach to sustainability, underpinned by an awareness that has always typified its Members: entrepreneurial development can only exist if it is combined with environmental protection, the enhancement of the land and of those who inhabit it.
